

ANNOUNCEMENTS: New ATISA-Sponsored Prizes

ATISA Ben Van Wyke Prize for Best Graduate Student Paper in Translation and Interpreting Studies

Sponsored by the American Translation and Interpreting Studies Association and the family and friends of Ben Van Wyke, this prize recognizes excellence in graduate student research in the field of Translation and Interpreting Studies. The prize is named in honor of Ben Van Wyke, a devoted member of our Translation and Interpreting Studies community. Submission requirements and deadlines are provided below:

- Applicants must be a member in good standing of ATISA and currently enrolled in a graduate program in any field or discipline
- Papers must be in English and address the conference theme (2018 ATISA conference theme: Contexts of Translation and Interpreting)
- Papers should fall between 5000-7000 words (including notes but not including bibliography)
- Papers should be submitted in the form of an anonymized Word doc (with author's name and affiliation removed) and a non-anonymized Pdf doc; the essay should be double-spaced with 12pt font and 1" margins
- Papers should be accompanied by a cover letter/email indicating the student's academic affiliation and including a brief explanation (150-200 words) of how the paper addresses the conference theme
- The anonymized papers will be judged by a three-person jury of specialists in the field
- The due date for submissions is March 1, 2018
- The winner will receive a $500 award
- The winner will be announced at the 2018 ATISA conference (atisa2018.uwm.edu)

Submissions should be submitted to Brian James Baer, Chair of the ATISA IX Scientific Committee, at bbaer@kent.edu.

*To donate to the Van Wyke Prize fund, checks should be made out to ATISA, with Van Wyke Prize listed in the memo line, and sent to ATISA's treasurer, Dr. Daryl Hague, 3190 JFSB, Dept. of Spanish and Portuguese, Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah 84602.
